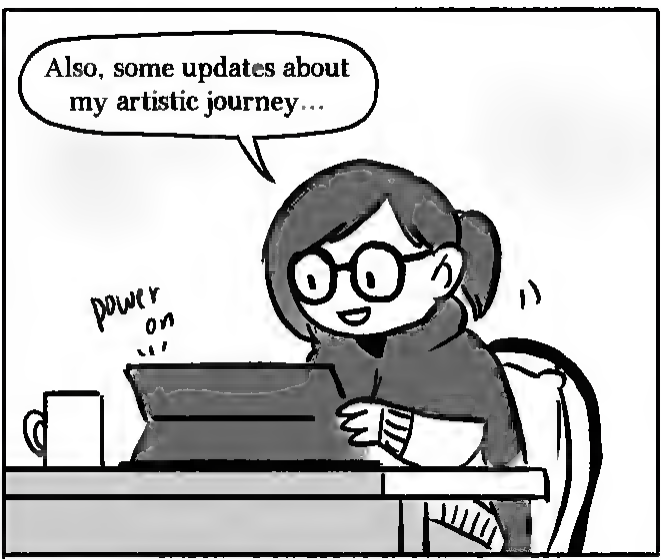
ROAR STREET JOURNAL

Hi everyone.
There has been a grey cloud following me for several weeks...
...because I'm currently going through a challenging time in life right now.
Reading the comments on episode 100 really helped to lift up my spirits.
You guys reminded me how RSJ warmed your hearts...

...and now you warm my heart in return

Thank you so much! I'm very thankful to have you guys around.



Also, some updates about my artistic journey...
power on

I have finally graduated from my master's degree!
YEAH!!

Well, not officially graduated yet, but I have completed my studies.
I am now a full-time working illustrator!
CAREER

I'm starting to receive more illustration work outside of RSJ.
character design magazines books

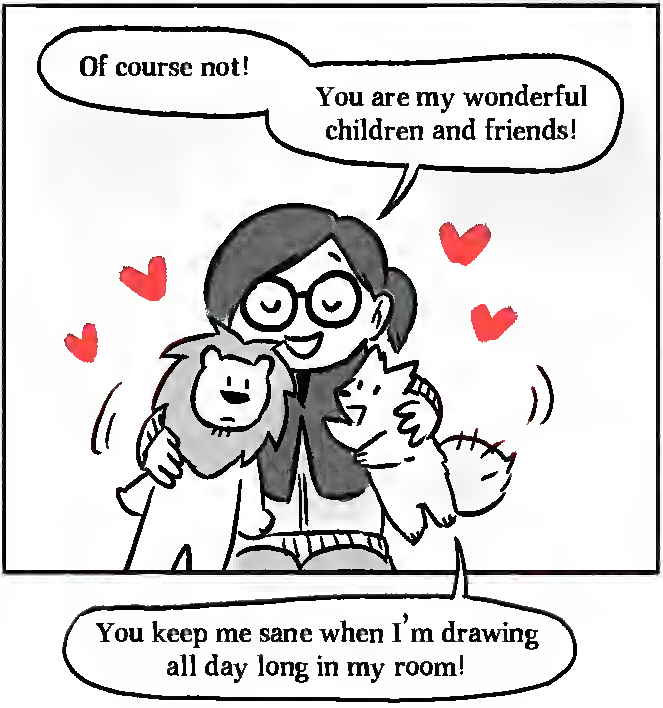
Wait, are you going to dump us?!



Of course not!
You are my wonderful children and friends!
You keep me sane when I'm drawing all day long in my room!

Talking about drawing in my room...

The best thing about being a freelance illustrator is the freedom of working from home.

I don't need to travel to work somewhere, which helps saving time and money.

No work clothes or suits, just in my pajamas!
"Professional illustrator"

In fact, I have been studying from home in the past 3 years for my master's degree.

I have finally finished my studies, but normal people wouldn't notice anything different.

That's because...

Year 1 (master's degree)

Year 2

She always stays at home. Doesn't she need to attended classes?
Security guard
Hi
Back from lunch

Year 3

Why does she have so much free time? Shouldn't she finish her studies already?
Security guard
Goes out for lunch

Year 4

She must be unemployed.
Security guard
Hi
Bought some groceries

Graduated and working

Goes out for lunch

Back at home, the reality is...

DRAWWWWWWW
deadlineeeeeeeeee fighting!!!!!

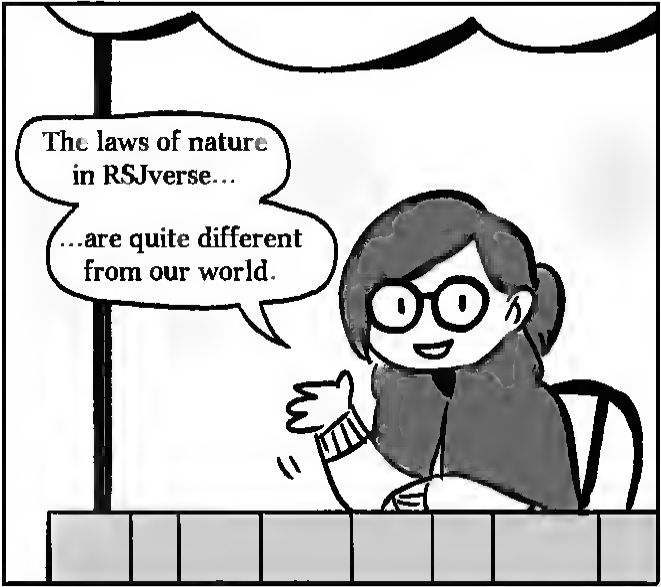
Alright, let's get back to work now!
ASK THE AUTHOR
How can I help you today?

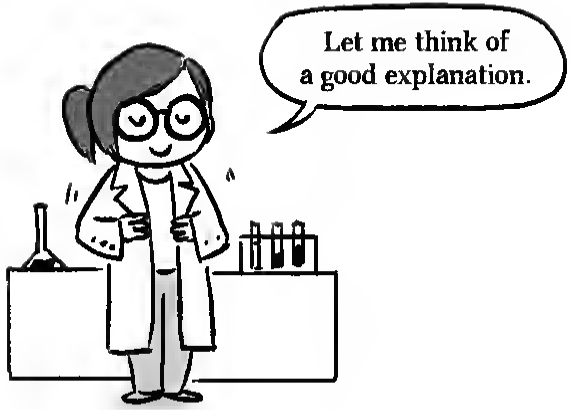
Multiple readers:

Where does the food in RSJ come from?



The laws of nature in RSJverse...
...are quite different from our world.

I guess this is a burning question for some readers...



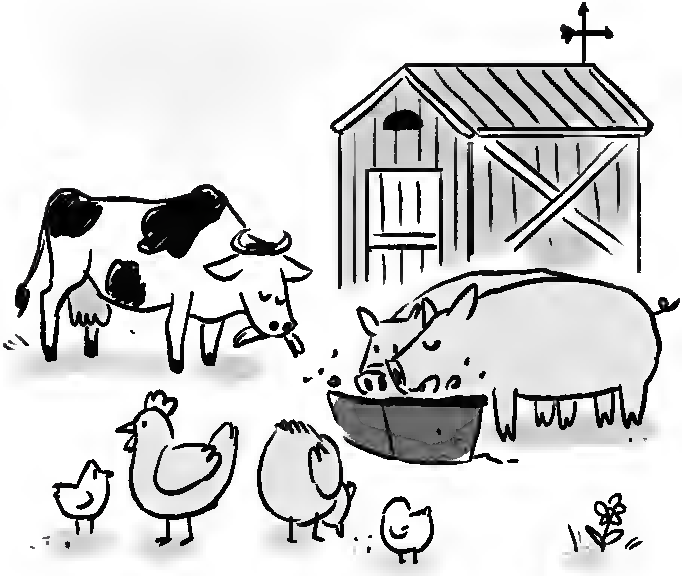
Let me think of a good explanation.

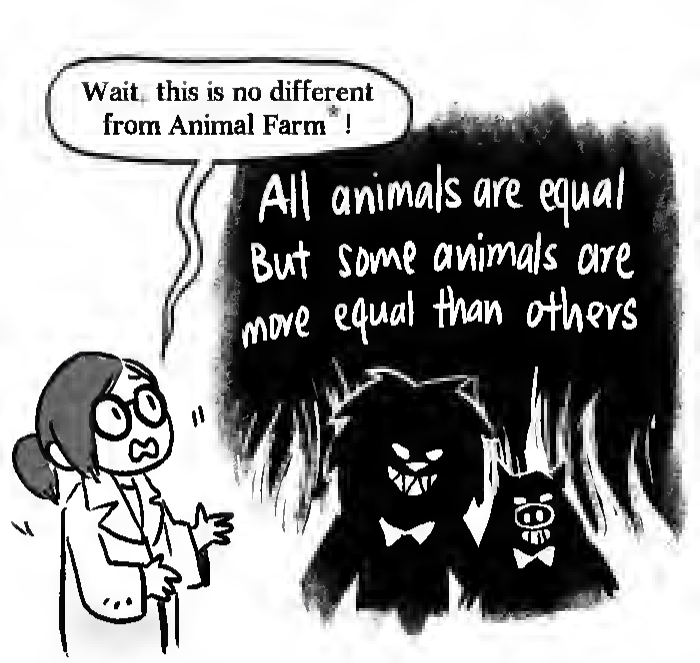
Theory ①

There are two kinds of animals in RSJverse.

There are animals who walk and talk and do all human things...

and there are animals who are...just animals.





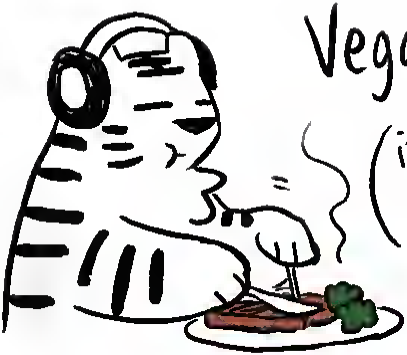
*note: a book about social inequality.

Theory ②

All animals in RSJverse are vegetarians.

All food are made from vegetarian sources.

♩♫

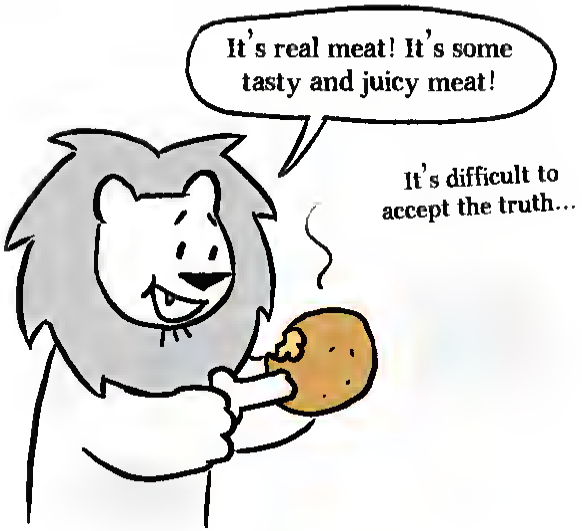


Vegan Steak!

(it's just tofu!)

Vegan Burger!

(it's just beans!)

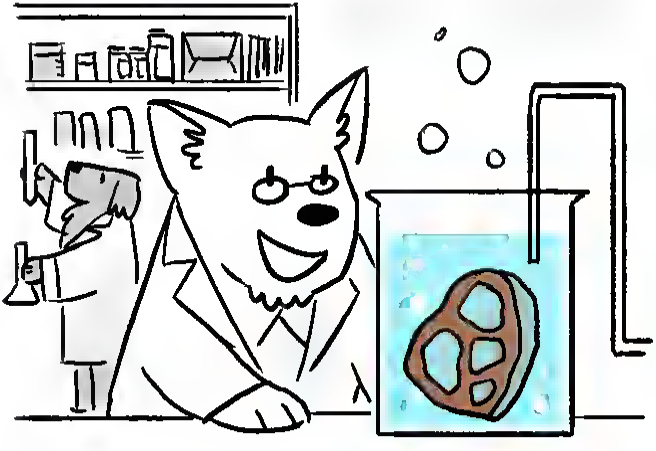


It's real meat! It's some tasty and juicy meat!
It's difficult to accept the truth...

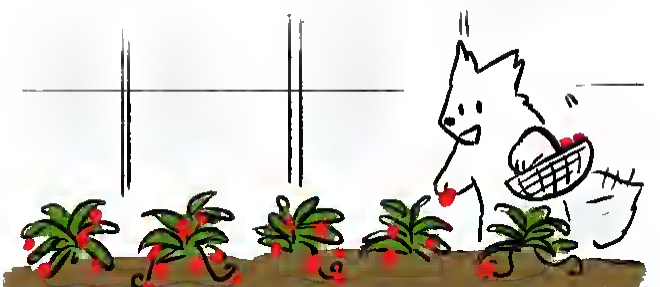
Theory 3

All meat in RSJverse are grown in science labs.

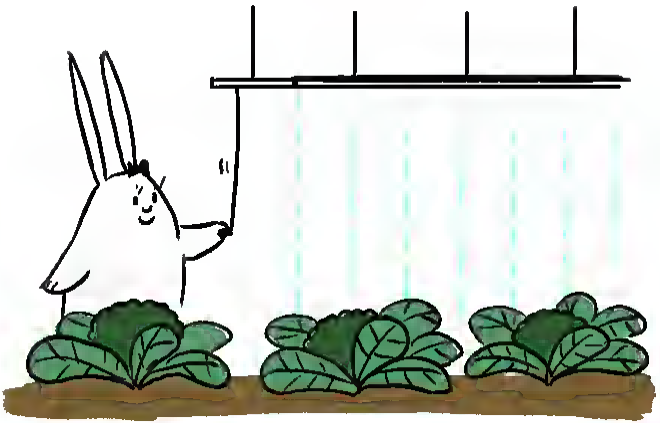
The pinnacle of food engineering!



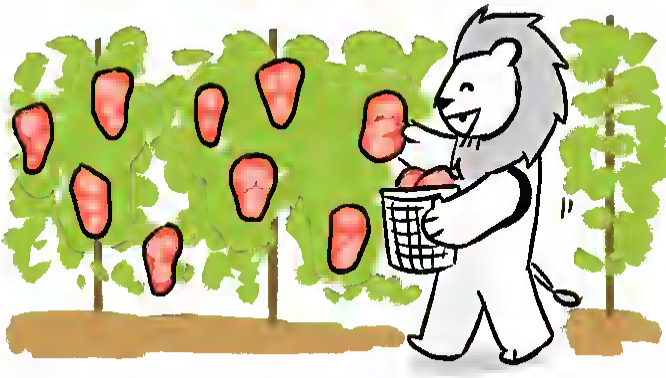
Strawberry fields ...



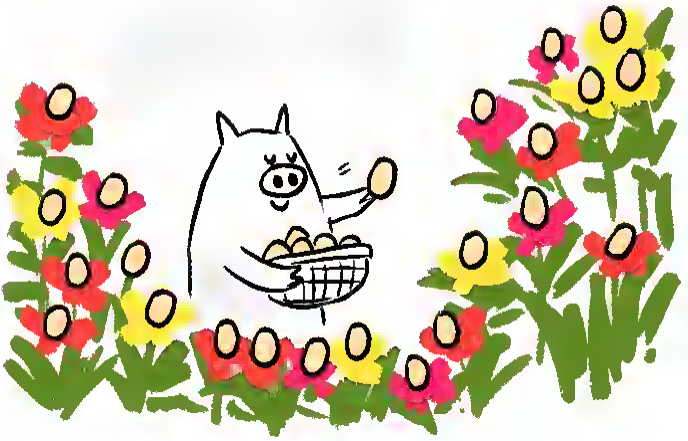
... broccoli garden...

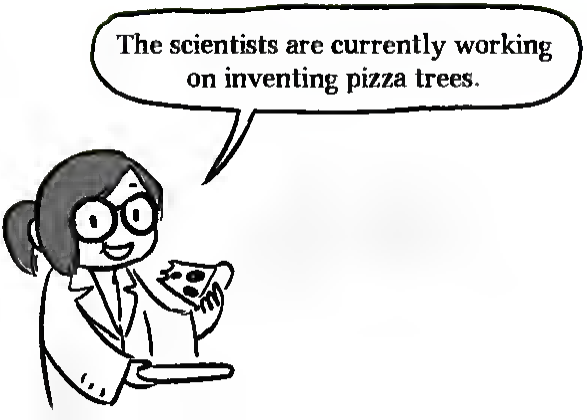


... Steak vineyard ...



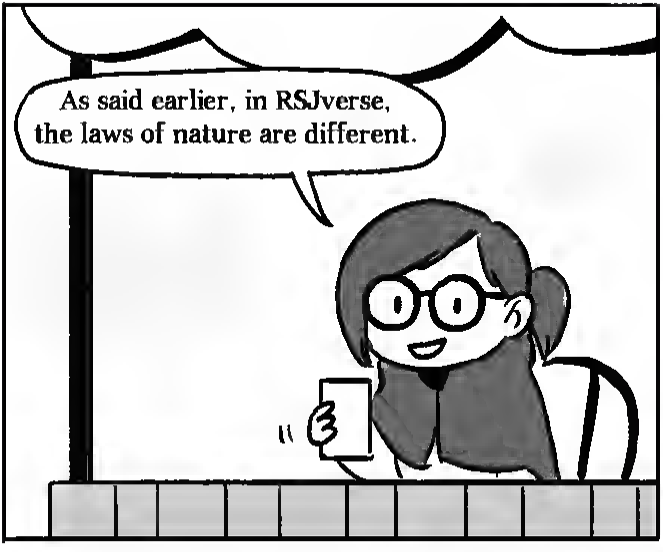
... egg plantations ...





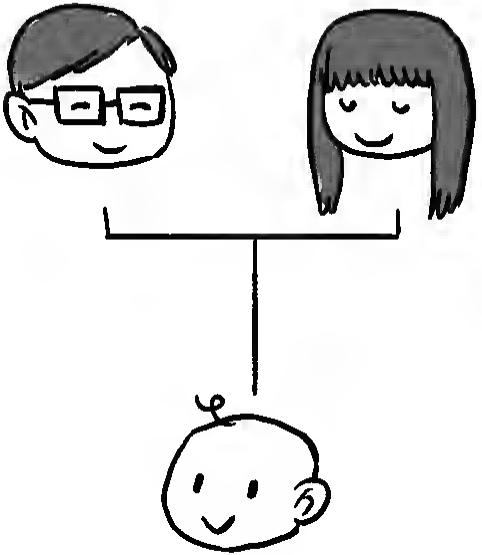
A large number of readers:

How can Tortis and Tiffany have children?



In the human world there is only one specie,

so all babies are human beings.



In RSJverse,

love is not restricted within the same species.

Some animals prefer their own kind.

But it's normal for different species to be together too.

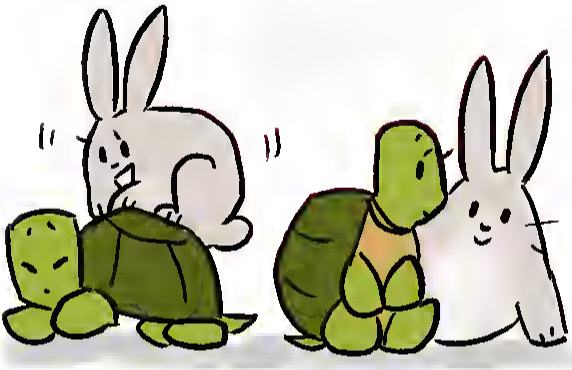
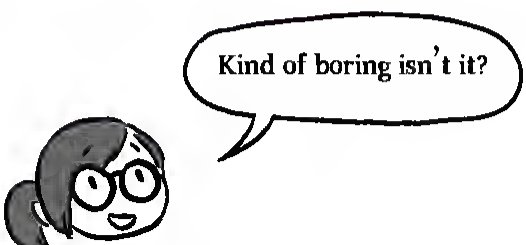
If Tortis and Tiffany have children,

there are 3 possibilities:

(2) All rabbits

3 Half & half





the 4th possibility

Crossbreeds
(or mutants)

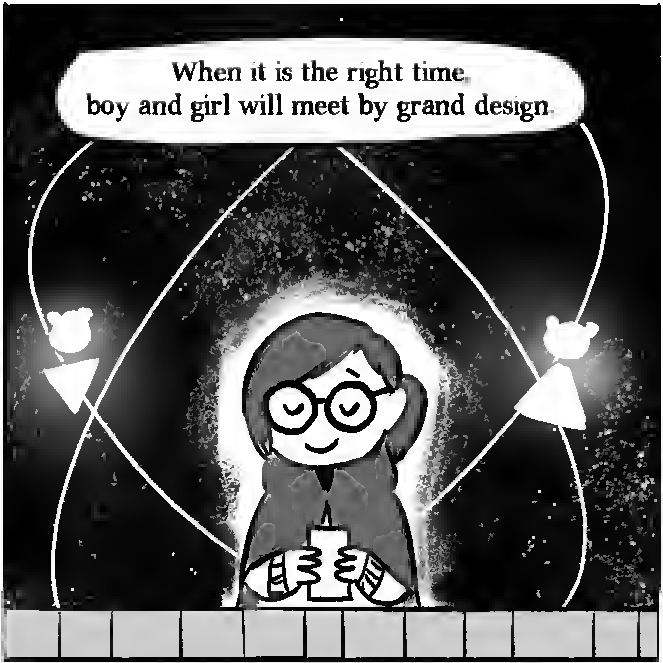
(I know you have been waiting for this!)

Shelled rabbit

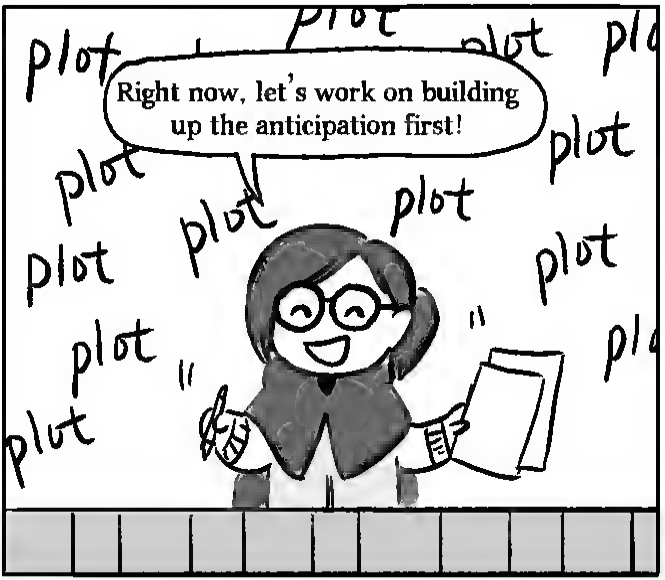
Every reader:

When will Leo and Cheetah-B get together?

In my opinion... love cannot be forced or rushed.
It's not the right time at the moment.

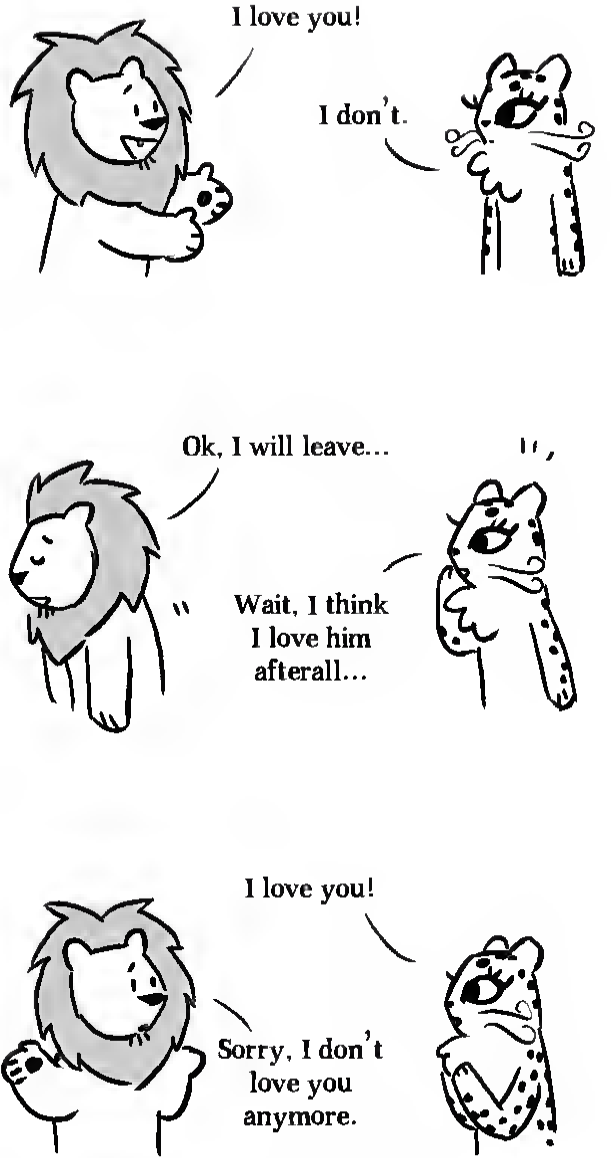


When it is the right time,
boy and girl will meet by grand design.



Just like the movies,

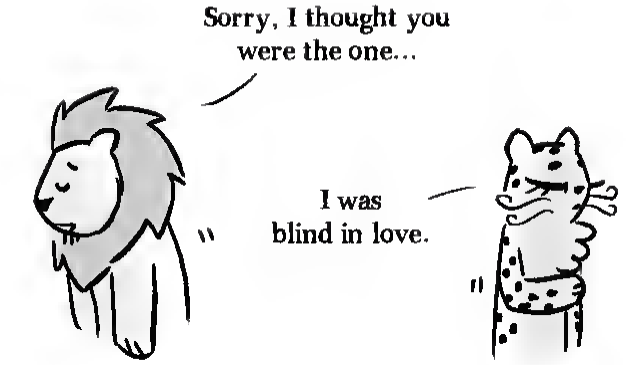
where the boy and the girl took the length of the whole movie just to find out they were meant for each other...



I love you!
I don't.
Ok, I will leave...
Wait, I think I love him afterall...
I love you!
Sorry, I don't love you anymore.

We are meant to be!

...or not.



Sorry, I thought you were the one...
I was blind in love.

Please be patient as I write the plot of their story.

That's it for this episode!

Ask me anything in the comments!

I will answer your questions in the next Ask The Author episode!

I'm Irish and the national animal of Ireland is the red deer, but some people like to think that it is the hare - one of Tiffany's relatives!

Readers from Ireland!

The national animal of Ireland is the Red Deer. It is the largest and only native species to Ireland, and are believed to live there since the end of the last Ice Age!
